

Dear Coach,

You have taught me so much about soccer and you made me the "defender". And you made me love soccer even so much more, I think you should never quit coaching. Never!

But we changed from being that sometime win sometime lose team, a winning team.

And when ~~she~~^{meghan} first played ^{into} for us she wasn't very good ^{at goalie} but now since you have taught her you made the team better by teaching people how to do stuff the right way. And I think when those people who try out and get in then I bet you could make them better to. You have done a lot in my life so now I would like me to do something in your life for you. (squirr)
